A Communication Which Should Make Every Citizen of This Coun- other." try Blush for the Man Who Wrote It-Mechanics, Farmers and Laborers Mentally Unfitted for Citizenship-"They Will Do as They Are Bid on Election Day or Take the Consequences" - McKtaley, the Champion Against the Hosts of "Poverty, Ignorance and Greed"-Sample of the Arguments Used by the Goldbogs of the East.

In the columns of the New York Journal, the paper which has been making such a gallant fight for the free coinage of silver, there recently appeared a communication signed "Gentleman," in which the writer held that the common people were unfit to exercise the right of the elective franchise and that it was meet and proper for the employer of labor to mildly coerce those who worked for him and proper for the man with money to buy

The publication of this communication brought forth a storm of indignant protests from many of the horny-handed sons of toil of that city and vicinity. Writising under the whip of scorplons which the honest people applied to his back, "Gentleman" replied at some length in the Journal of the same length in the same length in the same length in eastern Utah and western Colorado, and beginning with the east-bound passenger train No. 4, which leaves Salt Lake at 7:46 p. m., trains will run regularly.

The Herald has been requested to reproduce this article. It is contended, and the contention is true, that in his communication, the Journal writer, or correspondent, has given away the Hanna programme. The full text of the screed is as follows:

To the Editor of the Journal:

Were my mind not matured by study and reflection, and so possessed of that balance which renders one superior to the evanescent gales of popular fury. I should certainly be in some danger of losing my temper at this time. The extremely abusive and unpleasant letters which you are pleased to publish in relation to my communications in your paper—and permit me to say that you might easily be in a more dignified business than pandering to the passions and prejudices of the mobare but tamples of hundreds that have reached me personally through your office.

And what, after all, is my offenced.

And what, after all, is my offence? I have said that the lower orders are incapable, without the instruction of their betters in brain and social position, intelligently to use the franchise. I have said it is better for themselves and the country that their votes should be controlled by purchase and gentle coercion rather than that they should be allowed in their ignorance to go to the ballot box and vote for Bryan, free silver, repudiation, national free silver, repudiation, national dishonor, and the despoilment of the upper classes, who represent about all there is of civilization among us. I have said that I cordially approve of the measures taken by that broad-minded, resolute and patriot-ie man, Mr. Mark Hanna, to prevent the triumph of anarchy and social-ism, which Demagogue Bryan's election would be.

One would think from the brutal and scandalous manner in which I am as-sailed on all hands that I personally am responsible for the following ex-sion to my approval of facts 2 and 3.

And I am proud to say that in this attitude of approval I am in the very best of company. In all my friendly intercourse with Mr. Hanna, which has extended over some years, I have never detected in him a trace of that most odlous of all characters—the hypocrite. What he does he does with open, manly frankness. Never in his dealings with the labor unions, in his private capacity as a capitalist, has he truckied for an instant that he might receive that poor reward of the coward and frimmer—popularity.

When the lower orders invited him to war he ever willingly accepted the challenge, and for their blind temerity crushed them. As he is in business, so he is in politics. The better clusses, who have supplied this business, so he is in politics. The better classes, who have supplied this great and brave man with funds for the election of McKinley and the maintenance of the gold standard and our national honor, know as well as I do the uses to which their genere as contributions are to be put. So does our gallant standard-bearer, our vallant champion against the hosts of ignorance, poverty and greed-Major William Mckinley of greed-Major William McKilley of Ohio. So does the more enlightened portion of the press which splendid-ly indifferent to party lines, has rallied to the defense of the right-ful but beleaguered aristocracy of this anhappy country—the aristoc-racy of wealth, culture and brains; three in one, one in three; the trin-ity of the Republic's true and only

Contributions to The Herald's Bryan fund are beginning to roll in. The people are waking up, and by the end of this week it is safe to assume that the fund, which is being raised to aid in the fight for the people's cause, will be greatly enlarged, and all should aid in it as their means will allow.

Yesterday afternoon an old lady came into The Herald office, saying she wanted to aid in the good work. "Here is $2," said she; "all I can afford just now. It isn't much, but will help a little."

That is the spirit, and The Herald is just as happy to receive a small contribution as a large one, for the total of the small contributions will make a big aggregate.

Now let the people from all over the state respond. The Herald will duplicate the amount of each subscription, large or small.

Cut out the blank and send it in with your subscription.

WANTED, A JAIL.

Murray wants a jail and wants it bad. The following petition, signed by Dr. W. E. Ferrebee and a number of others, was received:

"Gentlemen—We, the undersigned, your petitioners, realize the importance and absolute necessity of a jail in connection with a room to hold court. The officer at this place making an arrest finds it extremely inconvenient to hold a prisoner until he is delivered up to the county jail or the court; especially is it so when arrested in the late hours of the night, as is the case very often at this place. In several cases the officer has had to watch the prisoner all night in order to secure his safe keepnight in order to secure his safe keep-ing. We, therefore, respectfully pati-tion your honorable body to locate a jall at the town of Murray."

BOLD JAIL DELIVERY.

Six Desperate Convicts Make Their Escape at Newcastle, Del.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 28,-The boldest jail delivery that has ever ocnothing now remains for the commissioners to do except approve the form, and they are ready for delivery. County Attorney Whittemore submitted a letter from the United States Morigage & Trust company, by Arthur Turnbull, treasurer, stating that on the 24th inst. 350 of the county bonds just received from the engraver had been shipped to Mr. E. B. Wicks, the company's represented by his city. The jetter conat the county jall at Newcastle Saturday night. Six desperate convicts brutally assaulted Warden Reed and, relieving him of his keys and rovolver, made their escape from the prison.
They were Benie Harris, William Duncan, alias "Larry the Yorker," Thomas Gibbons, alias "Cleveland Jimmy," "Brooklyn Whalen," and another whose name has not been ascertained.
It is customary with the management of the Newcastle jall to allow the prisoners to stroll up and down the ment of the Newcastle jail to allow the prisoners to stroll up and down the corridors for an hour every evening. Last evening, Warden Reed went into one of the back cells to play cards with some friendly prisoners. Harris and his comrades were parading the corridor at the time, and they quickly planned their escape.

While Warden Reed was sitting at a table in the cell dealing cards. Harris and Gibbons walked in and exchanged greetings with him. The latter, not suspecting trouble, went on with the game. Harris gave Gibbons the cue, and the latter struck Reed a terrific blow, knocking him senseless to the floor.

They rifled his pockets, and took the keys of the corridor door and two revolvers. Duncan and Harris took charge of the pistols. Gibons led the party and after getting out of the corridors safely they made their way to the jall yard and scaled the wall by means of ropes. They were not gone five minutes before a prisoner in the jall eave the aarm. Then the whole he minutes before a prisoner in an including a series a farm. Then the whole town learned it and the citizens started in pursuit of the fugitives.

Duncan and Harris were recaptured, but the others are still at liberty.
